LOCAL HISTORIANS

October 1926

The following is a list of local historians arranged by counties. In the case where no name follows a political unit, no one is serving at the present time to the best of our knowledge. Local historians will be very glad to render all possible aid to those interested in the history of their locality. The statute authorizing the appointment and clearly stating the duties of these historians follows:

Chapter 181, Laws of 1919

Chapters 381 and 634, Laws of 1921

An act to amend the Education Law, in relation to local historians

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1 Chapter 21 of the Laws of 1909, entitled "An act relating to education, constituting chapter 16 of the Consolidated Laws," as amended by chapter 140 of the Laws of 1910, and by chapter 424 of the Laws of 1913, as added by chapter 181 of the Laws of 1919 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1198 Local historian; appointment. A local historian shall be appointed, as provided in this section, for each city, town or village, except that in a city of over one million inhabitants a local historian shall be appointed for each borough therein instead of for the city at large. Such local historian shall be appointed as follows: For a city, by the mayor; for a borough, by the borough president; for a town, by the supervisor; for a village, by the president of the board of trustees. Such historian shall serve without compensation, unless the governing board of the city, town or village for or in which he or she was appointed, shall otherwise provide. In a city having a board of estimate and apportionment, a resolution or ordinance establishing compensation or salary for such historian shall not take effect without the concurrence of such board. The local authorities of the city, town or village for which such historian is appointed, may provide the historian with sufficient space in a safe, vault or other fireproof structure for the preservation of materials collected. Such local authorities and also the board of supervisors of each of the counties of the state are hereby authorized and empowered to appropriate, raise by tax and expend moneys for historical purposes within their several jurisdictions, including the placing of memorial tablets, in the collection of war mementos, and, either alone or in cooperation with patriotic organizations, prepare and publish local histories and records relating to the world war and print and issue other historical publications in aid of the work of the local historian.

§ 1199 Duties of local historian. It shall be the duty of each local historian, appointed as provided in the last section, in cooperation with the State Historian, to collect and preserve material relating to the history of the political subdivisions for which he or she is appointed, and to file such material in fireproof safes or vaults in the city, town or village offices. Such historian shall examine into the condition, classification and safety from fire of the public records of the public offices of such city, town or village, and shall call to the attention of the local authorities and the State Historian any material of local historic value which should be acquired for preservation. He or she shall make an annual report, in the month of January to the local appointing officer or officers and to the State Historian of the work which has been accomplished during the preceding year. He or she shall, upon retirement or removal from office, turn over to the local city, town or village authorities, or to his successor in office, if one has been then appointed, all materials gathered during his or her incumbency and all correspondence relating thereto. The State Historian, at regular intervals, not less than once a year, shall indicate to the local historians the general lines along which local history material is to be collected.

§ 2 Section 1198 of such chapter, as added by chapter 424 of the Laws of 1913, is hereby renumbered section 1199-a.

§ 3 This act shall take effect immediately.

HISTORICAL SOCIETIES

The information given on the following pages about the historical societies in this State is based on the returns of questionnaires sent out to the various bodies in 1924 and 1925. Cards were mailed in April 1926 to obtain the names of the present officers. It has not been possible to include all the data submitted. If further information is desired, a letter should be addressed to the Archives and History Division of the State Department of Education or to the society in question. An effort has been made to include every historical society in the State.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the general principles of the theory of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are derived from the principles of relativity and the theory of the structure of the atom. The second part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the application of the theory of the structure of the atom to the study of the properties of matter. It is shown that the theory of the structure of the atom can be used to explain the properties of matter, and that the properties of matter can be used to determine the structure of the atom.

In New York City will be found societies, some of which are doing historical work, representing different states in the Union, such as the Pennsylvania Society, 249 W. 13th st. As that city draws its population to a large extent from the other states, it is only natural that former residents of these states, with a common tie, form associations.

A number of national societies, such as the Hispanic Society of America, with headquarters on 156th st., west of Broadway, are to be found in a cosmopolitan city like New York.

The large number of the chapters of various patriotic organizations in this State precludes our giving a detailed account of each one. We have, however, listed the various orders and their local chapters.
